

Suit filed to curb sewer plant odors

The first lawsuit in the 10-year history of the Bay Area Air Quality Management District charging violations of public nuisance statutes was filed in San Mateo County Superior Court in Redwood City Friday against the North San Mateo County Sanitation District.

The action alleges that the NSMCS's Daly City treatment plant is being operated in a "negligent and unreasonable manner."

The suit was served on district officials Friday.

It asks for a March 4 hearing in Superior Court on preliminary and permanent injunctions against the district managing its Westlake treatment plant in this manner again and for six specific steps to end the odors emanating from it.

Residential and commercial neighbors in the Westlake area have been complaining for about a year about the sewage smells that have been coming from the treatment plant.

Complaints about the odors had been dropping off in recent months, but resumed again at the end of January after a breakdown in the oxygen reactor tanks produced a large volume of escaping hydrogen sulfide, which smells like rotten eggs.

BAAQMD Public Information Officer Teresa Lee said Friday that office had received up to 60 complaints a day between Jan. 31 and Feb. 13 and that official violation notices had been issued to the Sanitation District on 13 of those 15 days. Five calls a day is sufficient for such a citation to be issued, she said.

District Plant Supervisor William Keaney said Feb. 15 that corrective measures had been taken, the reactor tanks cleaned out by hand and the clogged oxygen lines blown out, and he hoped the odor problem would be ended.

Ms. Lee acknowledged that the number of complaints had fallen off to just six between Feb. 15 and 22.

Sanitation District General Manager Peter Archuleta said Friday that there likely wouldn't be any public reaction from the district until the March 4 court appearance. The suit has been referred to district counsel Robert Booth, he said.

This latest bout with BAAQMD, one of many over the past year the Sanitation District has had, is not connected with problems addressed by a $466,000 contract recently awarded for new scrubbers and covers at the plant designed to prevent escaping odors. This suit is aimed at changes in maintenance and operation of present equipment.

"We feel there are design problems and a need for more anti-pollution control equipment at the plant," Ms. Lee said, adding "We think there is a lack of maintenance, checking of the facilities regularly, long corrective work as the need arises, or even checking things. We're asking that the plant operators be required to take a number of specific actions to minimize violations in the future."

Did hydrogen sulfide create health hazard?

Was the foul-smelling hydrogen sulfide coming from the North San Mateo County Sanitation District sewage treatment plant in Daly City the first two weeks of this month a health hazard?

There's a suspicion that it was, Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association spokesman William C. Wade told the district Board of Directors Monday.

"We have information on five people with serious problems with their eyes," Wade said.

The problem the people have had has coincided with the treatment plant breakdown from Jan. 30 to Feb. 13, he continued. He said he has been told that the combination of hydrogen sulfide (H₂S) and water produces sulphuric acid, a highly-caustic chemical.

His remarks came after Mrs. Alice Walsh, a nearby Westlake resident, complained that she had gone to Kaiser Hospital with badly burning eyes during a recent rain storm and had been advised by medical people there that the hydrogen sulfide and water "causes something."

Wade said his group was getting physicians' statements together on the five afflicted people in the neighborhood of the Westlake treatment plant. "Then we'll sit down with you."

He said afterward that he had no thought of suing the Sanitation District, figuring that might cost $50,000 in legal fees the WSLA didn't have and that something like this would be very difficult to prove.

But he said he has asked those afflicted with the eye problems to keep time logs of when the problems occur. So far, he said, their afflictions and the emission of the rotten-egg odors from the plant — besides being offensive to the nose, as they have been for about a year — have coincided, and it is thought there may be a connection.

"You didn't have serious (health) problems until the recent breakdown, now you may have," Wade warned the board.

He said he has asked the Bay Area Air Quality Management District for "careful readings" on the H₂S from the plant.

After the meeting, Wade said one of the five people, whom he declined to name, had her eyes nearly swell shut and her face from her forehead to cheeks swell and turn red. Mrs. Walsh was one of the less serious cases, he said.

The BAAQMD filed a public nuisance suit against the district Friday and district Treatment Systems Superintendent William Keaney reiterated to the board his statements of last week that the breakdown has been cleared and the plant is back to normal operation.

A large part of the cause of the breakdown had been clogged air and sewage transmission lines in the oxygen reactor tanks, which are supposed to contain the effluent while oxygen is pumped into it, eliminating the odor.

Jack Walsh, a resident, asked why the foam in the tanks hadn't been identified yet and how rags got into the impeller to stop it up and how a shoe got into the pump.

"Was this sabotage?" he asked. "It's unusual that three things like that would happen at the same time," he said.

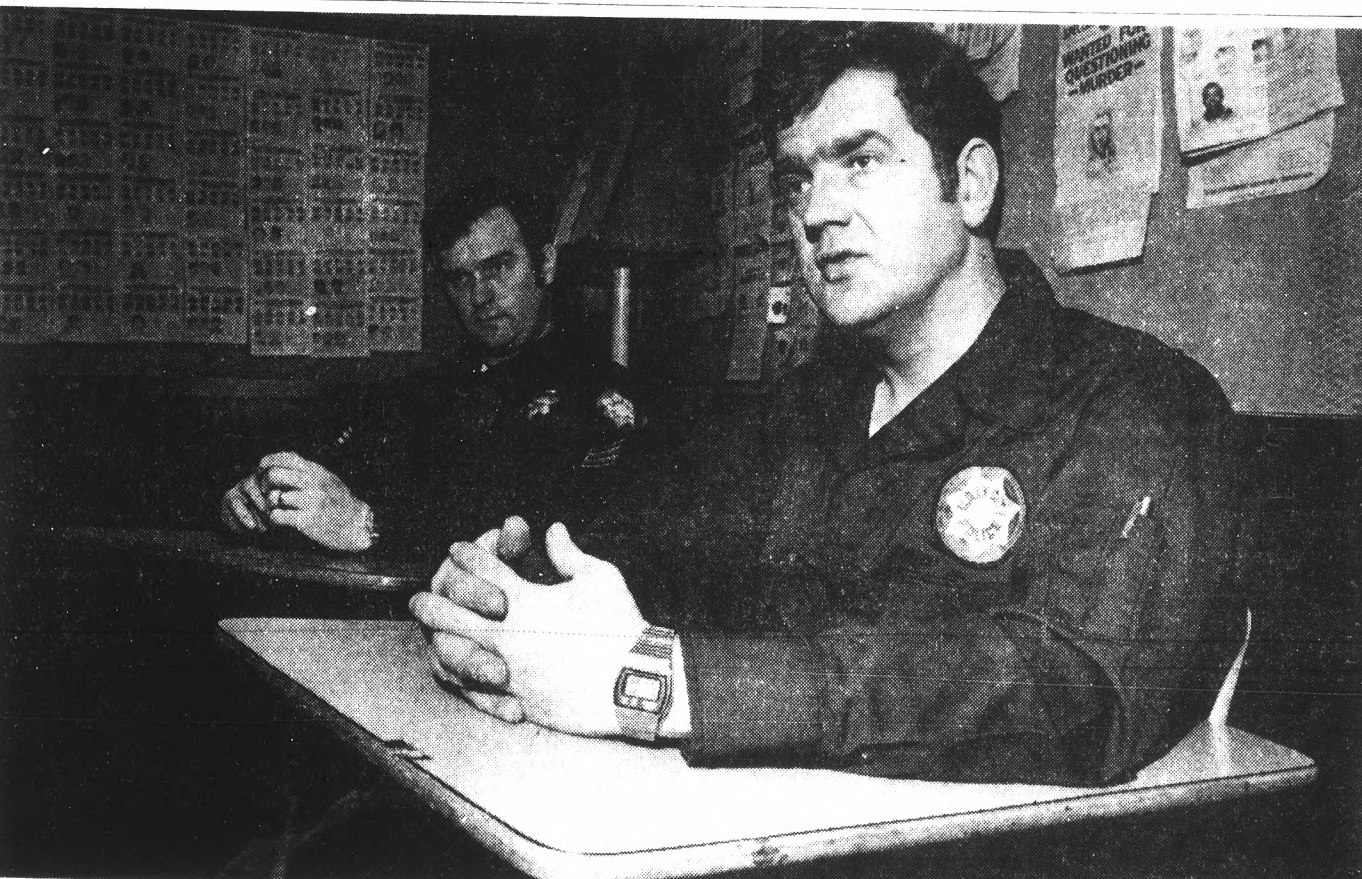

Keaney replied that he didn't know how those things got into the system. "Some people may wish to dispose of things this way. We have no control over what comes down," he said.

THE POST

New trainee Richard Farrar, right, and Tom Reese, training officer

From bobbie to officer

By JOHN CURRY
Post Staff Writer

A former English bobby who may be the first ever to make a "lateral transfer" to a United States police department now is in basic training with the Daly City Police Department, practically starting his career over again because he likes it here.

It took exactly a year of letter-writing and waiting, but former Kent Constable Richard Farrar finally arrived Feb. 15 and joined the Daly City department's seven-member police training class, which went to work last week.

"As far as I know, this is the first time this has ever been done," the 11-year veteran of constabularies north and south of London said.

"As a kid I did U.S. history and geography in school, and always had an itch to see the country. Finally I did, and I was so impressed with everything I saw, I just had to come back and be a part of it," he explained.

As a bobbie active in the fraternal

International Police Association, he traveled all over Europe to promote fellowship among police of various countries, and it was on two vacation trips to the Bay Area that convinced him that this was for him, he recounted.

Just more than a year ago, while staying at the home of Chris Weld, a San Francisco policeman, Farrar said he decided he'd look into the possibilities of a law enforcement job here.

He toured around Kensington, in Marin County, Pacifica and Daly City, meeting Sgt. Tom Reese, the Daly City department's training officer. "I saw this department and was totally and completely impressed. There was nowhere else to go after that," Farrar said.

Reese said the paperwork blizzard started then, with applications and letters to the U.S. State Department, Labor Department and Immigration and Naturalization Service to try to get Farrar some kind of priority. He had to show the department is short-handed and Farrar had a job lined up, but he still had to wait on the immigration quota, he recalled.

Farrar, 33, started his police career in Bedford, just north of London and near his native Kempston, after becoming tired of being a printer and living a factory routine. "An advertisement for police work seemed like a good idea," he said.

After a year on the town beat in the rural Bedford area, he switched to traffic, working the M1 freeway, England's busiest, where he once had to help untangle a 285-car smashup in the fog on the London-North of England artery.

But when his children began school, he said, he decided the Kent area south of London was the best place for them, so he got a lateral transfer to the 6,000-member force there, where he went on traffic patrol in May 1978.

Patrolling in a Rover police car or on a BMW 750 motorcycle has had its moments with some high speed chases and unaccommodating characters. "You'll have some in 11 years," he chuckled, noting that he has picked up a commendation from the chief constable and two court commendations during his career in England.

But now it's five weeks of intense training in Daly City, followed by 12 weeks of basic police academy at College of the Redwoods in Eureka and back to Daly City for nine weeks of field training before hitting the street as a Daly City policeman in August.

It's been quite a lot of physical exercise so far, he said of his class work.

Learning a completely new set of laws and police procedures will come. One of Farrar's tasks will be to learn how to use a gun. He never wore one on traffic detail at home.

One thing he could think of this early on that could be different in procedures would be in dealing with suspects. "It appears the rights of the individual are somewhat more regarded here. Some things I'd be permitted to do at home, I'd not be permitted to do here."

Reese explained that that could include equipment, advising suspects of their rights and when to call for an attorney, but also that California law is even stricter than that of the United Kingdom.

Farrar said he's searching for a home. Wife Patricia and their two sons, David, 10, and Peter, 9, are still in England, where they are a little different from constables. There, Farrar said, the department provided him with a three-bedroom house in Ashford, rent free, in which he paid only the utilities.

But he said he still sees a better standard of living here. His starting salary in Daly City is $1,407 a month, compared to the 317 pounds, or $640 monthly he collected in Kent. Comparing the percent sales tax here with 14 percent in England and the higher inflation rate, there also makes the move a good one, he went on.

Farrar will have to undergo the 18-month probationary period all new officers go through. But he's looking forward to it. "Sure, it's a little different from the streets here, but it's a challenge. But what constitutes a crime here is burglary in England. There's the same 15 percent rate of burglary here as there is here, but more people are still doing it."

When all of police work would be as simple as that. "For a start, I just want to be a good Daly City police officer. I'll be satisfied with that."

Preferential parking issue petering out

A drive that began six months ago to get preferential parking for residents along several streets running off the south side of John Daly Boulevard, excluding BART commuters may be petering out.

Here's why, according to information given at the City Council meeting Monday night:

- There are no BART commuters parking on those streets, and

- Some of the residents may have thought the petitions they signed last August were for parking restrictions to allow the city street sweeper to clean the streets.

This bit of updated information came from Mrs. Dorothy Peterson, 651 San Diego Ave., who told the council that all the cars parked on her street belong to residents and that the only problems are that some have more cars than parking space for them.

"More people come to BART by bus than by car," she added. She said the parking situation seemed to have eased since the BART parking garage was built.

She said she thought some residents also had mistaken the petition for one asking for street sweeping, which had come later.

Gene Holt, 174 Santa Barbara Ave., corroborated this. He said he had circulated a street sweeping petition in the same neighborhood and "I couldn't find anyone who had seen a preferential parking petition."

At Councilman Anthony Grammona's request, the council directed Traffic Engineer Keith Dellaway to take another survey of Nimitz, Willets, Woodrow, San Diego and Miriam streets "to see if they still want it."

The feeling for preferential parking seems to have changed, Grammona observed.

Another preferential parking request, from the senior citizens at the Villa Fontana Apartments at 35 County Road, is alive and growing.

Dellaway's staff report on that indicated that nearly all the unlimited time curb parking on County is full between East Market and Valley streets during the day, as are the two-hour spaces on the east side of County, and there isn't enough off-street parking for the seniors within the apartment grounds.

Mrs. E.K. Richardson, who made the request on behalf of the residents, added that the other part of the complex, the 118-unit B building at 50 Market St., has only 32 parking spaces and residents there also are in need of parking.

The parking requirements laid down by the city for this senior citizen housing complex was based on federal Housing and Urban Development statistics for seniors. "They were wrong," he remarked wryly.

Polonsky said the proper form for the residents to take is to submit a petition to the Planning Commission for an environmental review.

Mayor Victor G. Kyriakis said Mrs. Richardson's request is a good one, but he said he would like to see the petition together so the matter could be considered at one time. Mrs. Richardson said she would wait that way.

Dellaway's report noted that the street parking is full because apparently some commuters are leaving their cars there to catch the San Francisco buses on nearby Mission Street.

The city inaugurated the preferential parking concept nearly two years ago on the north side of John Daly to prevent the neighborhood from being filled with the parked cars of BART commuters. Kyriakis commented that the plan has worked pretty well there.

As for the street sweeping, the council approved parking restrictions from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays in most of old Daly City, between the San Francisco line and Jefferson High School west of Mission Street, to allow street sweeping.

The restrictions would provide for one side of the streets to be swept Thursdays and the other side Fridays, a plan Public Works Supervisor Michael J. Sims said would improve the sweeper's efficiency and allow parking on one side of the street on those days.

Outfall hookup studied

A feasibility study of the possibility of hooking its effluent outfall line into the San Francisco outfall line at Fort Funston was approved by the North San Mateo County Sanitation District Board of Directors Monday, although with some misgivings that the cost may be too high.

District Engineer Robert Eppler also reported to the board that the district's own outfall line, which empties into the ocean near the San Francisco outfall and which has been broken at the surf line since Jan. 11, could be best repaired in early June, when the tides are at their lowest and work on the line would be easiest.

These two items are tied together in the board's view, because of a Bay Region Water Quality Control Board request that the district study an alternative to its own line at Fort Funston.

District General Manager Peter Archuleta told the board he had consulted with San Francisco officials eight months ago and that San Francisco had asked for a feasibility study also and that cost figures then seemed high.

Directors John Ward and William Schumacher agreed that the cost may not be worth it.

Ward said the $9,600 estimated cost of the feasibility study, by Resources Engineering and Management of South San Francisco, "seems like a minimal cost compared to this requirement (by BRWQCB)."

Eppler said the study would concentrate on the costs of hooking up to San Francisco's line and of pumping the Sanitation District's treated effluent to a high elevation.

With these figures, he indicated, the district may be able to show the Water Quality Board that it just isn't cost-effective and the district should keep its own outfall where it is.

Ward questioned the wisdom of spending money to repair the outfall if it has to be abandoned later.

Eppler replied that if the district outfall line is put into a concrete cradle, as recommended, it should be pointed out to Water Quality that the line's reliability would be enhanced to the point where a hookup would be unnecessary.

He said plans and specifications should be ready for board approval by March 21.

A combination of heavy rains, heavy outfall flow from the San Francisco line and extremely low tides left the district outfall standing on a narrow support high out of the sand Jan. 11, causing one of the joints to break.

Sloane attends a conference

John H. Sloane, vice president of the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees, was among 600 school board members nationwide to meet in Washington, D.C. earlier this month to discuss federal legislation affecting public education and to confer with their congressmen and administration leaders.

Sloane was named by the California School Boards Association to represent the 11th Congressional District.

The occasion was the seventh annual conference of the Federal Relations Network, sponsored by the National School Boards Association. The Network consists of up to three school board members from nearly all of the 435 Congressional districts.

Major items discussed included in-school youth employment programs, school nutrition legislation, federal funding, energy, asbestos, implementation of a new federal Department of Education, and NSBA opposition to granting of federal tax credits for tuition paid to private and parochial elementary and secondary schools.

A grassroots organization, the NSBA Network is a year-round direct communication conduit

It's Fuchsia Ball time! Members and friends of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild will gather this Saturday evening for their annual Spring event, the Fuchsia ball which will be held in the lovely Green Hills Country Club.

The ball is planned and sponsored by guild members with all proceeds pledged toward the retirement of the guild's pledge to the construction and equipment fund of Mary's Help Hospital.

There will be new and used items available as well as a surprisingly large selection of plants at this year's edition of the Westlake Catholic Women's Annual Rummage which will be March 7-8, in the Our Lady of Mercy parish hall.

Mrs. Sandy Covell and Wayne Watson are chairing the sale and Mrs. Rae Marie England is assisting.

The sale hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on both days. For the best buys plan to shop early!

What is more fun than a home town talent show? Not much unless it's a Girl Scout talent show.

Members of the South San Francisco Girl Scout Association will sponsor a talent show, "I Believe in Music," on Friday evening, March 7, at 7 in the auditorium of South San Francisco High School.

Girls from almost all of the South San Francisco troops will be represented at the show. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.25 per person.

Another Rummage sale, this one sponsored by the Loyola Guild, is being readied for March 12, a Wednesday, in the Hall of Flowers in San Francisco.

Twenty departments, featuring everything from houseplants to furs, will be offering new and used merchandise beginning at 9 a.m. and running until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Eileen Murphy is the publicity chairman and she reports that committee members have been working diligently to secure a wide choice of furniture, clothing, jewelry, books, antiques, etc., which will be sold to raise money for the scholarship funds at the University of San Francisco and at the St. Ignace College Preparatory.

For more information or to arrange for a donation pick-up, write to the Loyola Guild, 2130 Fulton St., San Francisco 94117.

Members of the Daly City Friends of the Library are beginning to collect books, records and sheet music to be sold at the annual Spring Book Fair.

Mrs. Virginia Tierney reports that the fair will be held on April 12, in the Garden Court area of the Westlake Shopping Center. Members of the book fair committee will have depositories in all the local library branches beginning this week. The earlier you make our contribution the less the work of the committee during those first two weeks in April!

In special demand at all the fairs are sets of encyclopedias, cook books, "how-to" books and old sheet music. Funds from the book fairs are used to help supply local branches with materials not included in the budgets as limited in this post-Prop 13 era.

The happy occasion of the wedding of Miss Jill Shields to Richard Bagnall offered localites an opportunity to renew their friendships with Bill and Marilyn Bagnall, long time Daly City residents who now reside in Southern California.

Daly City people will remember the Bagnalls as mainstays in the local Boy Scout movement and as devoted members of the Friends of the Library.

The Bagnalls were in town for their son's wedding in San Francisco Feb. 16.

Members of the Fifty Plus Club of Pacifica are asked to make reservations now for the Theater and Supper party being planned for March 21.

No bus is planned for this junket to the Avenue Theater in San Francisco but Edna Laurel Cahan needs to know how many people will be returning to her home following the showing of Charlie Chaplin's The Gold Rush for cocktails and a buffet dinner.

New teacher glad he's back

LUCERO RETURNS

Mike Lucero replaces Jefferson High School biology teacher Emmitt Tierney, who retired last month. Lucero taught at Westmoor High School for nine weeks after spending 21 years teaching biology and physiology at left as well as coaching the girls' varsity basketball team.

Lucero left Jefferson because there were no positions open in the science department. He taught a drugs class and an energy class at Westmoor while continuing to coach at Jeff. He says that the situation at Westmoor was uncomfortable, and no young teachers were on the faculty, which was hard to relate to.

Lucero now is teaching biology and work experience. He comments, "Jeff is great. I'm glad to be back."

FRENCH STUDIES

Steven Mezera, a counselor at Jefferson High School, will accompany a group of area students to study and travel in Europe next summer. The 36 day program is offered to students by Interstudy, San Francisco.

The program features an opportunity to learn about the language, culture, and civilization of France while staying on the French Riviera, followed by a one-week cruise on the Western Mediterranean.

Interstudy's "French Studies on the Cote d'Azur" includes two nights in London, three in Paris, and two weeks studying French conversation on France's "Cote d'Azur" at Nice. Following this is a seven day Western Mediterranean cruise, three nights in Florence, and three nights in Rome.

High school and college students partaking in Interstudy programs are selected on a nationwide basis. For further information, contact Mezera at 992-4050.

Of tax deductions

'Take advantage'

Every taxpayer should take advantage of every income tax deduction he or she can get, accountant Richard Dwyer told a Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce luncheon gathering last Thursday. "If you're not taking advantage of what's in the books, please do. The government wants you to," he said.

Dwyer, whose business was in Daly City for many years until moving to Burlingame a year ago and who served for 12 years on the city Planning Commission, said tax avoidance is permissible and encouraged because it still involves complete disclosure. Tax evasion is a criminal act because it means hiding assets and lying to the tax people, he said.

Noting a reporter in the audience, Dwyer said, "I don't want to see in print, 'Dwyer knows how to beat the system.' I don't."

He explained some new changes in the tax laws and approaches to income tax that every small business owner or individual should be aware of to save the most he can in taxes.

The federal government now says it won't check into the value of business inventories because of inflation, Dwyer noting that "The value of inventories is always very questionable" anyway, but advised that any merchandise facing obsolescence should be marked down as quickly as possible. If any item doesn't sell well, "You have a problem with obsolescence," he said.

For instance, the new car market "has some big mark-downs coming," Dwyer predicting. "We'll see a revolution in that industry."

Because government regulations are prohibiting discrimination in which employees can be covered by work-related medical plans, he advised getting 100 percent coverage for small corporations with perhaps only three on the payroll. "It's a good deal," he said.

The same holds true of properly-documented interest-free loans within a family, individual pension plans such as IRA or Keogh, gifts of assets to avoid estate taxes after death, income averaging, estate planning and tax shelters, he pointed out.

The pension plans in effect postpone taxes on that income but gather interest in the meantime, Dwyer explained.

"Through inflation, we're forced into making plans for our demise," he went on, noting that the gift tax now exempts the first $175,000 of a gift, up from $30,000 in 1932. "But the government hasn't kept up with inflation," he said, and the value of estates is growing fast. "Real estate is expected to go up 15 to 20 percent next year. It's crazy, completely idiotic," he charged.

"Take a piece of paper some night, total your assets - home, cash in the bank, a couple of stocks - and you'll be shocked," he asserted.

The only decent tax shelter today is in real estate, he claimed, because it appreciates while at the same time it can be depreciated for tax purposes. "I haven't seen anyone pay off on any other types of shelters," Dwyer said.

Income averaging is done on one of five tax returns today and is advised for anyone whose income fluctuates by 20 percent or more in a year. "It saves a tremendous amount of money," he said.

Corporate income tax rules have been relaxed to give the small businessman with an income of under $100,000 "somewhat of a break" this year.

On their own compensation and automobile business use, Dwyer urged the business people to fight any attacks on their claims by the Internal Revenue Service. Consider yourself entitled to auto expenses the same as a salesman and "Go for 100 percent," he argued.

The income tax laws are becoming more complex all the time, with changes made every year for the last decade, usually for political reasons in response to pressure groups, he said.

One result has been that last year for the first time, over half the tax returns filed in this country were done by professional tax preparers, Dwyer stated.

Revised condo plan approved

A revised grading and landscaping plan for a 31-unit condominium project at King Drive and Hyde Court was approved by the Daly City City Council Monday night, but by only a 3-2 vote over objections that there could be trouble ahead.

The Serramonte Unit No. 9, by Pryor-Padgett Associates of San Mateo, was approved by the council last June, with a 25-foot retaining wall against the hill as part of the design.

The city Planning Commission earlier this month okayed the revision, cutting the wall to a maximum of 10 feet and grading off the hill beyond the wall to a gentler slope with trees, shrubs, and grass to be planted to hold the soil and prevent erosion.

Michael Paynter, architect for the developer, told the council the re-design would improve drainage and esthetics, giving the project a more pleasing appearance.

But Councilman William Schumacher, who didn't like the design of the project last June and still didn't Monday, charged it would look worse and that the retaining wall is the only thing that will prevent future slippage. Joint ownership of the property is going to mean a big joint problem later, he charged.

Schumacher and Councilman Anthony Grammona were the dissenting votes.

In other business, the council:

Approved the low bid by Tanforan Dodge of Millbrae of $85,910.23 for seven new police patrol cars.

Approved a variance to allow a fence averaging 10 feet high to be built behind 15 properties on MacDonal Avenue between Allan and Talbot streets, to block out wind, noise from adjoining commercial property and burglars.

Okayed applications for 14 organizations to sell fireworks this summer, contingent on the census count. Should the city's population not grow that much, 13 would be allowed under the current formula, with the Host Lions and Skyloons clubs possibly combining their efforts.

Set March 10 for public hearing on zoning ordinance amendments adding open space district, open space residential district and resource protection combining district designations to the ordinance.

Approved the formal purchase agreement for the former Abraham Lincoln School site in Westlake from the Jefferson Elementary School District for $1,130,000, and another agreement with Mrs. Thelma Doolger.

Diane came out eighth out of 24 flutists and placed in the symphonic band and Johnny came in to first chair out of eight bass clarinet players, placing him in the symphonic band.

Johnny and Diane will go on with the state honor band which will rehearse in Sacramento and give a concert April 1 for the California Music Educators Association.

On April 19, students must deliver their own art work to the Home Savings and Loan Association, 2320 Broadway, Redwood City, where they will be displayed April 21-23. April 24 at 7 p.m. a reception will be held for all participants, their parents, teachers and friends, at the Redwood City Women's Club House, 149 Clinton St., Redwood City.

The presentation of first through fourth place winners will be made at this time by Bonita Parlor No. 10, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Cash awards of $50, $30, $20 will be given, as well as an honorable mention ribbon.

The winning entry will then be eligible for State competition in June at Grand Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West in Santa Rosa, where cash awards of $100, $75, $25 and an honorable mention ribbon will be made.

Further information and contest rules may be obtained from Thelma Locatelli, Chairperson, 285 Jeter St., Redwood City 94062 (388-9132) or Eleanor Connolly, 100 Mira St., Foster City 94404 (873-6929).

FASHIONABLE

A fashion show by male models will be March 1 at the Green Hills Country Club, Millbrae, as part of Mary's Help Hospital Guild's Fuchsia Ball. No host cocktails begin at 6:30, with dinner at 7:45. Cost is $25 per person, and dancing will follow. Proceeds benefit the hospital's expansion program. Preparing for the event are, above from left, Roos Atkins Manager Dan Chan, model Bill Schumacher, Fuchsia Ball Chairwoman Nanda Steward; and Jim Sargent, Carlyle Hillsman, Mrs. Stewart and Chan. Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. Stewart or Alyce Brachman, reservations chairman.

THE 'PRIZE' WINNERS

Serramonte High School Vice Principal Laurie Cahill, left and Administrative Assistant Willie Young were the faculty "winners" in the school Parent-Teachers-Students Association's Kiss the Pig contest Feb. 14. Votes were collected at a penny apiece as a PTSA fund-raiser, held here by Lani Scultz, her handler for the day. One of the largest assembly crowds in recent school history were on hand to see the two administrators and student winners Gina Hom and Gina Lin plant their smacks on Miss Piggy. Once was enough, however, and they wouldn't repeat it for the camera. The pig, borrowed from a ranch near Half Moon Bay, started the day being named Walter by the students, but became Miss Piggy when it was discovered he was a she. The promotion netted $60 for the PTSA, to be used for student events.

The art of taxidermy

By ARVILLE FINACOM

It was in the late 1950s when a 12-year-old boy by the name of Fred Funk began a correspondence course in taxidermy. So fascinating did he find the skill and so adept did he become at stuffing birds and animals that his interest persisted.

His boyhood hobby became a career goal and he majored in Zoology at the University of Idaho, working his way through school by utilizing his already considerable skill as a preparator of skins and stuffed specimens.

After graduation and several years work at the Nevada State Museum, Funk came to the Bay Area and joined the staff at California Academy of Sciences where he's been employed the last nine years.

Along with his professional tasks which include collecting, preparing, maintaining and restoring exhibit and study specimens at Cal Academy, Funk teaches taxidermy.

Locally, he begins a five-week Saturday series on March 22 at Coyote Point Museum as a spring public course offering of the Coyote Point Museum Association.

Last fall, Funk conducted a one-day workshop at CPM as part of the CPMA and Junior League of San Francisco seminar series, "An Environmental Experience." 11 and 15 others participated in that workshop. We were there not only to try our hands at the precise skill but also to gain a greater understanding of the time, effort and knowledge that lies behind successful preparation of wildlife for study and exhibition purposes.

In my thinking, taxidermy is an art as well as a scientific skill if one defines art as an ability to capture the essence of a living creature in a completely static but intensely realistic portrayal.

As a popular art/skill, taxidermy is not ancient. According to Funk, it was not until the second half of the 19th century that specimen preparation and exhibition became widespread. The basic method remains the same today although modern equipment permits specific techniques such as freeze drying to delay preparation time from "immediate" to "at the taxidermist's convenience." Fast freezing of specimens also cuts down on the rank odor that accompanies decaying flesh. True, specimens do need to be thawed before preparation, but thawing time is usually not long enough to get decay organisms back at work full blast.

Participants in the November workshop prepared birds only. Those in Funk's March-April Saturday 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. class will work with both birds and small mammals. Funk also expects to introduce the skill of the tanning of leather. Before participants begin, I'm sure Funk will introduce them to the legalities affecting a taxidermist's activities. Collecting and possession of deal specimens except those which can be obtained under a hunting license and a few others continually in "open season" is specifically prohibited by both federal and state law.

Curiosity about that law and its many provisions led me to the Fish and Wildlife Code, State of California. Among its close to 15,000 sections I found that "all fish and game are the property of the state" and that the State Fish and Game Commission is charged with "preservation, protection and restoration" of wildlife.

The Fish and Wildlife Code created by an act of the California Legislature in 1933 following Federal action in 1932, underwent massive revision in 1955, and is continually amended as conditions within California demand more legislative backing of wildlife protection and management measures.

In 1979, the "Native Species Conservation and Enhancement Account" was set up within the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. Anyone who donates $5 or more to this new account receives a decal showing that the donor supports preservation, protection and restoration of "non-game and native plant species." The larger fund is one whose monies are spent in education activities including preparation and distribution of materials for school children as well as the general public and for construction and maintenance of exhibits and displays shown at county fairs and sportsmen's shows and gatherings.

But back, specifically, to private possession of specimens. Section 2002 of the F & W Code is clear. "It is unlawful to possess any bird, mammal, fish, reptile or amphibian, taken in violation of any of the provisions of this code, or of any regulation made under it." Only creatures which may be legally taken may be collected and then only in season.

Harsh as the law may seem to some who see no harm in picking up roadside kills or salvaging birds who fall prey to cats, it is designed as such a strict ordinance in order to protect the dwindling population of wildlife in a state urbanizing at an unprecedented rate.

If one can legally own only stuffed specimens or study skins from quite a limited list, why bother to learn taxidermy? Like many other skills, where appreciation for complexity comes with doing and respect for the finished product is the end result, learning how to skin, stuff and mount a specimen is an experience I recommend to all who claim to be environmentalists. Not only must one have some knowledge of the specimen's anatomy, in order to create a lifelike display specimen or prepare a worthwhile study skin, one needs to know a great deal about the habits of the creature in real life.

Funk's class approach involves step-by-step demonstration coupled with immediate imitation by participants. It's amazing how easily a bird or small animal can be flayed if one knows just where to cut and how to pull the skin away from the carcass without damage to the fragile fur or feathers.

Funk also deals with elements of scientific inquiry important to the amateur as well as the professional naturalist. He stresses the importance of collecting data — where, when, how the specimen was taken and who collected it — as well as specific preparation data weight, size, sex, etc. which will help researchers compare it with others.

Funk's personal ethic involves a respect for wildlife which includes sympathy for it in its manner of dying. The emotional issues of when to kill in order to collect as well as when to kill an injured animal are ones Funk approaches with much serious thought. He puts this philosophy very simply, "Everyone decides for himself what he can or cannot do."

For Funk, the value of a study specimen mounted expertly and displayed appropriately, accessible to many as both sample and reminder, sometimes outweighs the value of the creature still alive and free but subject unspectacularly to the vagaries of those who come to see it "in the wild" and end by destroying its habitat.

Information about Funk's taxidermy class at CPM may be obtained by calling 573-2595. There is a fee of $45 for CPMA members and $55 for non-members. Class size is strictly limited.

LOWER TOTAL FOOD BILL LUCKY HAS IT!

LOW, DISCOUNT PRICES EVERY DAY

Most supermarkets attach a lot of strings to their savings. Like store coupons...multiple pricing to get you to buy more than you need...or "specials" on a few items, good for a few days only. Lucky believes that every shopper should save. So instead of gimmicks, Lucky gives you low, discount prices on items in every department...every day of the week. And not just on food, but discount prices on non-foods as well, including health & beauty aids, housewares, stationery & school supplies...even books and magazines. And that adds up to a lower total at the checkstand!

THE QUALITY YOU RELY ON

Savings are important at the checkstand, but at the dinner table it's quality and selection that matters most. You'll find all your favorite foods at your neighborhood Lucky Store...national brands as well as our budget-stretching Lady Lee and Harvest Day Brands. And you'll always find over 200 cuts of meat, fish and poultry...plus over 100 varieties of fresh fruits and vegetables. Selection and variety that makes meal planning easy...plus low, discount prices every day of the week...Lucky Has It!

KEY BUYS

Key Buys are exceptional purchases or a manufacturer's temporary promotional allowance...and Lucky passes these savings on to its customers as Key Buys. Look for the Key Buy tags on the shelves...they're the signal for added savings!

Lucky

DISCOUNT SUPERMARKETS

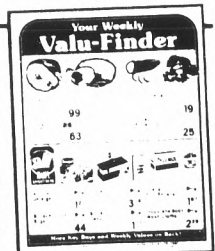

Guaranteed Value Per Measure

At Lucky, the "Guaranteed Value Per Measure" policy guarantees the larger size of a product is always a better buy than the next smaller one. In rare cases, where this is not true, Lucky customers are informed of this fact by special shelf signs...S.O.S...Save On Small size. At Lucky there's no guesswork because Lucky does all the complicated calculations for you!

Valu-Finder

The next time you shop Lucky, be certain to look for your free copy of our weekly Valu-Finder. It lists many of our Key Buys and new items as well as everyday low prices...many more than space permits us to list in our weekly newspaper advertisements. Valu-Finder items are also identified on shelves with a special tag so you won't miss them. Another way Lucky helps to reduce your weekly food costs!

Be somebody. Be a carrier!

Earn money!

When you're a newspaper carrier, you earn money every week. Your own money! For clothes . . . records . . . hobbies . . . or for something special like a bike, a stereo or your own TV. Money to save for the future, too . . . for school or some other important expense. It's your money. You earn it, save it, spend it . . . and learn for yourself how to handle it wisely.

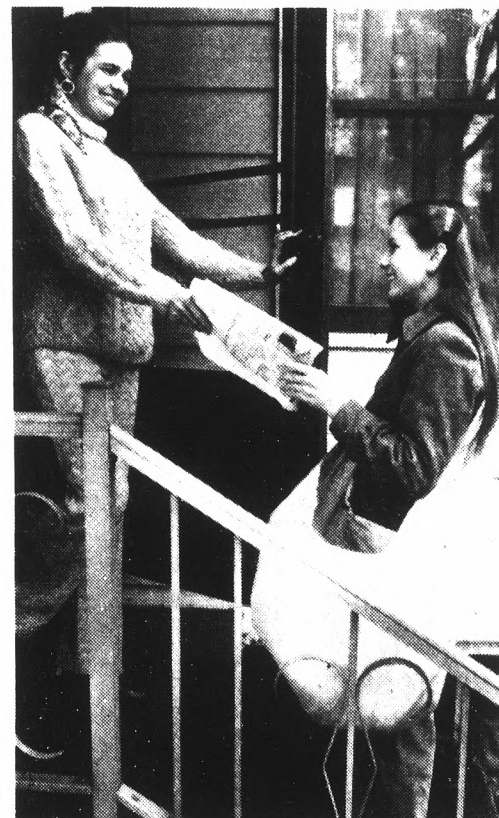

Win prizes!

Newspaper carriers also participate in sales contests with chances to win a lot of "extras"! You can earn extra cash . . . special trips . . . and great prizes! Sports equipment, television sets and stereos, watches and jewelry . . . there are dozens of valuable prizes to choose from. As a newspaper carrier, each new subscriber you sign up helps you win these "extras"!

Have fun!

Being a newspaper carrier is fun! As a carrier, you'll get to meet and work with others your age. You'll get to go to special meetings where you'll learn the art of selling. And when you're a top carrier, you'll get the chance to earn extra money, super prizes, and have some great times with other carriers. It's a terrific way to make new friends!

Be somebody!

When you're a newspaper carrier, you're not just a kid anymore. Being a carrier shows that you can do something important and do it well. Chances are you'll do better in school (most carriers do). And the things you learn about handling money and working with people will help you be successful in the future . . . no matter what you do!

If you're 10 years or older and want to do something important, find out more!

STUDENT OF THE MONTH

Maritza Gutierrez, a sophomore at Jefferson High, has been voted February Student of the Month by the Jefferson Student Government. Gutierrez is an honor student and very active in school activities. In her freshman year she was elected vice president of her class as well as publicity commissioner. She was also Student Body secretary. Basketball, painting and writing are her hobbies, but she wants to be a psychiatrist. She is writing for a school column that appears in a local weekly newspaper and was on the basketball team last year. She enjoys working and getting involved with people and especially with children, and says that she likes to meet people. Her science teacher, Cora Cabang, says, "She's a hard worker and asks questions constantly." She was born in Nicaragua, and has lived in California for 2 1/2 years. She's now living with her aunt. Her parents live in Nicaragua. They sent her here to study. Maritza says that she learned English in three months at Lipman.

Samuel Chandler

Here's an odd fact that was turned up by a Daly City's George Kirchubel: On Sept. 12, 1912, the City Council was forced to deal with citizens who charged that there was too much disorderly conduct in Daly City.

After listening to the testimony, as councilmen are forced to do, the city fathers passed an ordinance declaring that "the dances known as the Turkey Trot, Bunny Hug, Texas Tommy and similar ones of such character are disclosed, disorderly and immoral."

This ordinance and other measures that must have been enacted seems to have been effective. Within a few months the pages of the Daly City "Record and Tatler" were reporting progress towards "community harmony."

On Dec. 25, 1918, the editor noted that peace and quiet prevailed. "Today," he wrote, "there exists a good feeling and a spirit of peace and progressiveness."

Laws regulating disorderly conduct had the blessings of the city's founder, John Donald Daly. In the Christmas issue of the "Record and Tatler," he called for justice in San Mateo County to be administered by men who were "honest, humane and without unaided." "No man should be railroaded out of his rights or fail to get his just desserts," Daly wrote.

John Daly thought that judges and law-enforcement officers should be the most honest men in the County, even if they had to work at "a side line" to make a living. He cited Judge Templeton of Searsville as a shining example. By night he dealt cards, by day, justice, "and he was considered especially good at both."

Of him, Daly wrote, "All the elements were here to make thieves and criminals, but he... Judge Templeton wouldn't have them." He described the era that resulted as a period when "Men devoted one-half of their time attending to their own business and the other half letting the other fellows attend to theirs."

There was another John Daly who passed through San Mateo County during its pioneer period, however, who did not practice the principles of the John Donald Daly who founded the city that bears his name. As a result, the second John Daly believed the sting of pioneer justice in a most painful way.

This second John Daly pretended to have discovered a coal mine in the southern part of San Mateo County and sold shares in it to three businessmen who "never passed up a good deal." With the money they advanced to him he repaid to the local bar.

THE DIET CORNER
By ELISE GENDAR

My Comic Valentine... Does that old song fit you? Did you ever receive one of those dreadful single-sheet greetings displaying an over-sized, wadus-framed woman as someone's idea of a funny way to remind you you were fat? On a day dedicated to hearts and flowers, sentiment and romance, that smarts!

So, whose fault is it if you're coming in the eyes of the beholder? It's not the beholder who's to blame for the fat that's seen. It's the person who just won't take a good, unbiased look into a full-length mirror. The truth about appearance is that if you look fat, you probably are fat. Fat may not be funny to you, but it can be comic to people who watch you.

There's hardly anyone who doesn't need some form of diet control. All of us are going to have to indulge in a bit of consciousness-raising. We must be alert every week to our body changes and step in to bring an immediate halt to the ones that are not attractive.

Let's begin with a new approach to food by returning to the kitchen with some new diet recipes. Are you ready? Here's one:

FRENCH TOASTED HAM SANDWICH

1 egg
1 tablespoon chopped dill pickle
2 slices diet thin-sliced bread
1 oz. boiled ham, minced fine
1 tablespoon chopped celery
1/2 teaspoon mustard
Mix ham, pickle, mustard and chopped celery. Spread on one slice of bread and top with the other. Beat egg in shallow dish. Carefully dip sandwich on each side. Fry in Pam-sprayed or Teflon skillet.

Also, be conscious of the way your clothes are fitting. Noticed any squeezing of the waistband lately? Or are you carefully picking dresses that cater to your curves?

Are you taking up more of your skirts sideways so that they're shorter than they should be for this year's length? Started to leave your necklines open because they bind?

Like long sleeves because short sleeves cut into your arm? Raise your consciousness! You're headed for trouble!

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks... Tried cooking the same old meals? How about one dish dinner that combines cheese, cabbage, pork sausage, and rice bread to make an eye appealing and delicious entree?

HEARTY CABBAGE CASSEROLE

8 cups chopped cabbage
1 cup onion rings
4 rice bread slices, cubed
1 pound pork sausage links, cooked, drained
2 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup milk
Pasteurized process cheese spread
Parboil eight cups chopped cabbage and onion in one half cups onion 7 minutes, drain.

Make cheese sauce by melting the two tablespoons margarine in small saucepan. Blend in the two tablespoons flour until smooth. Add the half cup milk gradually, stirring constantly until boiling point is reached. Reduce heat, add the eighth teaspoon pepper and process cheese spread, cubed, stir until sauce is smooth.

Layer half of cabbage mixture, rice bread cubes, and sausage in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Repeat the layers of cabbage mixture and bread and top with sauce. Bake 30 minutes before baking. Then top with remaining sausage.

Bake in 350 degree oven 30 minutes.
6 to 8 servings.

HERE'S HOW

Peabody's books hot 5-piece group

A popular gathering place among those who enjoy top current music and dancing is PEABODY'S cocktail lounge in the Burlingame Plaza Shopping Center. Owner-host BEN BERMAN has booked a hot five-piece combo called MR MUSIC headed by RAY ROZZI, with WILHELM FULTON on lead guitar, formerly of Tower of Power and the Pointer Sisters; TONY LUERANO, of The Whispers; ERIC NIELSEN, from Bakerm's Fault; and DANA RUSSELL from the Mary Clayton group. Live music and dancing seven nights a week from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

At THE LEANING TOWER Italian restaurant in South San Francisco, JOE FROEL, along with co-owner JOE JR. and his beautiful wife CHRIS, and Manager BOB SCHOFIELD, are making plans for observance soon of the restaurant's Silver Anniversary (25 years of serving outstanding Italian food in the Tuscany style). HANA JAPAN Japanese Steak House in San Mateo has a new item called Miyachi Lamb and Chicken on the extensive menu. The dinner includes shrimp appetizer, soup, salad, rice and tea for $8.95. During the blustery weather of the past week, a leisurely libation in the newly re-decorated lounge of the sophisticated DAL BAFFO European restaurant in Menlo Park seemed even more soothing. The piano artistry of HANK NEMETH adds an extra touch of class on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Theatergoers favor Rosebud's dinners

With Tom and Dick Smothers performing in the stage play "I Love My Wife" at the Curran Theater in San Francisco, the phone at ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB has been ringing off the hook all week with theatergoers making reservations for pre-theater dinners. The elegant dining place is right across the street from the Curran. SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S restaurant in Redwood City is a popular choice of celebrities for intimate dining. Among those to enjoy dinner recently in the comfortable atmosphere here were baseball's great Willie McGee and KRON's Fred La Cosse and his new bride, Terry Lowry. A lot of old friendships were renewed and a lot of discoveries of a superb new restaurant were made by diners last week after they read in "Bright Lights" about the return to the Peninsula restaurant scene of Restaurant DAN BLAGI, who is welcoming new and old customers to his swank BIAGI'S European restaurant in Redwood City. TINI JONES entertains at the piano on Friday and Saturday nights at the famed old landmark CYPRUS HOUSE restaurant lounge in Half Moon Bay. During Sunday brunch, the talented duo of ANN YASINSKY (on flute) and RICHARD PATTERSON (on guitar) play light classics and pop melodies.

Orig. Zombie recipe La Pinata's boast

CHRIS VASSIS, owner of LA PINATA Mexican restaurant in downtown Burlingame, says the recipe for his Zombie drink is the original and was given to him by Jose Gonzales of the El Camino Hotel in Puerto Vallarta. The salad bar included with all dinners at LEHR'S GREENHOUSE in San Francisco is so elaborate that most patrons consider it to be a 12-course gourmet feast. Such unusual items as shrimps in aspic, pickled ham and turkey and apple salad are included. "You don't have to go to Italy to find the real thing in Italian food." At ROMANO'S in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, the pastas are something extra special. One of the most popular selections is Baked Camelloni (from a secret recipe), which is stuffed with sautéed meats, mushrooms and Italian seasonings. You'll find this and much more at this quaint little Old World restaurant bistro. The legend of the original "Captain" Charles Crust, founder of the now extensive GUST family holdings at Rockaway Beach.

Dine family-style Wed. at Tillie's

The all-you-can-eat family-style dinners served Wednesday night at TILLIE'S THE FRANKLIN restaurant in Moss Beach are popular for generous servings of authentic home-cooked German continental food. Diners include soup, salad, entrée with vegetable, rice pilaf, potatoes, dessert and a glass of wine for only $4.29 per person. Dinner patrons in the elegant PHILIP LEHR'S Pay-By-Ounce Steakery, on the lower level of the S.F. Hilton Tower, were quick to recognize John Stanley, host of KTVU's popular "Creature Features" dining with TV star Patrick Wayne, son of the late John Wayne. Patrick was a guest on Stanley's show. "You can be sure of the finest available selection of fish, crustaceans and other seafood delicacies when enjoying lunch or dinner at VINCE'S Italian and seafood restaurant. Adjacent to the landmark restaurant and lounge is VINCE'S FRESH FISH DEPOT, where all seafood is available to take home. There are good reasons why the steaks served at RON'S STEAK HOUSE in Millbrae are so tasty. All meat is carefully selected, all perfectly fresh and well-aged (no frozen meats). Have you tried the Char-Broil Steak Special? It's served with potatoes and salad from the Salad Bar for only $3.69.

ROTARY'S 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Rotary International was founded by Paul Harris in Chicago in 1905 for professional and businessmen. Members accept the positive obligation to express an active concern for the well-being of their neighbors using the motto, "Service Above Self." Feb. 23 was the 75th anniversary of Rotary International and 1980 is the 26th anniversary of the Rotary Club of Daly City. The local club will hold an anniversary luncheon and program today at Max's Son Restaurant at Serramonte Plaza. Rotarian Dick Slater is chairman for the Rotary Anniversary celebration. Pictured is the proclamation of this special Rotary observance being issued by Victor Kyriakis. From left are city councilman Al Teglia, Rotary Vice President Donald Brill, Councilmen William Schumacher, Anthony Giammona and James Tucker, Rotary Secretary Al Simonetti, and Rotary President George Thompson.

Storing a bull's sperm

By DR. DAVID R. BARNETT

Question: My neighbor, who prides himself on being an old cow hand, told me something the other day that sounded far out. He said that he knew a sperm-bank that had sperm stored in it from a prized bull that was 30 years old. The bull died 10 years ago and was still providing the vital material to keep the herds going. Is it true?

Answer: Your neighbor is more right than wrong. Sperm can be stored for a long time using special methods that are now available. Unfortunately, I have been unable to determine the exact length of time (the record, so to speak) that has been established for the viability of sperm.

Sperm storage and artificial insemination have been used for many years in the cattle industry, especially with dairy cows. In the last few years, these techniques have been utilized in the horse industry, and now they are starting to be used in dogs. The potential of improving a breed is tremendous if one outstanding sire can be utilized throughout the world via this technique.

Question: Our terrier is having problems raising her second litter. She had the same problem with the first one. Although she eats plenty of everything we give her, she still loses weight and is awfully skinny. She has loose bowels. The pups are skinny as she is. If we get her through this batch, we'll have her spayed. What can we do to put some weight on her?

Answer: Terriers are often nervous dogs and remain thin no matter what is attempted. As with humans, the metabolic rate varies in dogs so that one individual gets fat while another stays thin. Other than insuring that she is getting adequate amounts of a well balanced diet, there isn't much you can do.

The loose bowels and thin puppies might be a problem that would require veterinary care, so I suggest a visit to your veterinarian. Having the mother spayed might calm her down a little and she might put on some weight. Let me emphasize that the old wife's tale that "all spayed dogs get fat" is fallacious.

The spayed bitch may gain weight because she is more calm without hormonal stimulation of the ovarian hormones. This weight gain can be controlled by limitation of food intake, just as we humans can control our weights.
